9.	Description of the practice
	Origin: Adopting VOLUNTARY AGREEMENTS with the main producers of waste in the area, particularly restaurants and hotels, who commit to maintaining their own containers and those required by close neighbours, on their premises until the door-to-door waste collection takes place Development and Timescale: This experience began in 1999, following a year-long development plan, and it continues to expand to bordering areas thanks to the collaboration of businesses and local residents. Actors involved: Traders, accommodation facilities and restaurants located in the World Heritage area Legal framework: Cordoba city council's Urban Hygiene regulation. Agreement with large producers of waste in the World Heritage area. Financial framework: (activities' cost, activities' revenues (if any), model/s of financing used) No cost Use degree: (%) or number of users (if possible): 12 large producers 5% of the residents in the historic town centre 1500 inhabitants
10	Results
	Proven results (through indicators): The results which have been proven are the elimination of 78 1000L containers on public streets in the world heritage area. Possible success factors: Engagement and availability on behalf of businesses to reduce the impact of containers on public streets Main difficulties encountered: Difficulty in maintaining over time the number of extra containers for locals and locating spaces on the premises to store the containers during the day.
11	Main lessons learnt from the practice	The need to stay in periodic contact with the main financial players of the area, in order to integrate them as interest groups for the common benefit of council initiatives.
