Some background

Open Cultural Center (OCC) is an organization formed by volunteers in 2016 that carries out both educational and cultural programs with refugees and migrants currently living in Barcelona, Spain, or in camps in Greece. MigraCode is a program of Open Cultural Center.

What do we do?

Coding for any migrant/refugee who doesn't have equal access to the labour market, to improve diversity and inclusion, and to fill the tech skill gap

"Education is the most powerful weapon which you can use to change the world." - Nelson Mandela

Corporate Social Responsibility (CSR)

Why

It is becoming significantly important to not just think about company profits, but also about how a company can make a positive social impact in society.

By being a socially responsible company, many benefits arise. This is also understood as Shared Value: gaining competitive advantage while strengthening vulnerable communities.

How

There are two ways to get involved as an official CSR Partner of MigraCode: by hiring students, and/or by financing our courses.

We have various guides with more information, but in case you want to collaborate, reach out directly to our CSR Manager.
