Improvement of R&I priority setting process

PROBLEM

Previous attempts to select thematic priorities

- Followed only formal bureaucratic procedure
- Were not widely debated
- Were not sustainable after the change in the Government

SOLUTION

- A lot of evidence was collected
- Detailed consultations with stakeholders performed

IMPACT

- Fundamental change how priorities are set up
- Showed value of the debate process
- Closest implementation of Quadruple Helix in practice for Lithuania

TRANSFERABILITY

Easy to transfer main principles. Difficult to get funding for such long and difficult process.
