In Hungary, for the European project REBUS, the Region of Crete

"Energy upgrading of the public building stock" in the framework of a European project with the participation of the Region of Crete.

At the 4th scheduled meeting of the partners of the European project "REBUS - Renovation for Energy Efficiency in Public Buildings", participated the Region of Crete, which was held in Miskolc, Hungary. The aim of the project is to identify "tools" and to formulate guidelines for efficient energy upgrading of the public building stock.

During the meeting, Regional officials highlighted the good practices of European partners that could be implemented in Crete in order to overcome the difficulties and weaknesses identified in the process of energy upgrading of public buildings. The focus of the Region of Crete focuses on two key areas of the process: monitoring the energy performance of public buildings before and after renovations and informing and sensitizing managers and their users.
