PPI through the stakeholders' lenses

During the second semester of the project there has been one stakeholder meeting organised by each partner. The meetings have taken place right after the partner meetings in Tampere, where the best practice examples have been outlined, focusing on the project evaluation criteria. Stakeholder meeting discussions have resulted in valuable conclusions and ideas regarding the productive and successful implementation of the PPI within each region. More...

14 best practices identified by the partnership

A number of best practices on how the public officers can make the best and efficient decisions on choosing the PPI projects to be funded have been selected and discussed by project partners. The idea was to search different procedures (scoring, criteria, qualifications etc.) on how the regions and countries in Europe select PPI projects. More...

Challenges and opportunities on funding PPI

Experts from seven countries have shared their perceptions and experiences within the models of financing PPI and PCP, which have been already used by each region and could serve as an example for other initiatives. More...

Innovative cooperation for the wellbeing of citizens

Tesoma Wellbeing Centre in Tampere is the centre, which includes various kinds of services, starting from a library to a health centre, all in one place. The main goal of the centre is to raise the wellbeing of the city residents, improve the activity of each individual and to raise the general level of the citizens health. More...

Best practice workshop in Tampere

Project partners have met in Tampere to discuss how can the public officers make the best and most efficient decisions regarding the choice of the projects that will receive funding. The workshop was held in the Baltic Institute of Finland, where each of the partners have presented two best case practices focusing on the project evaluation criteria and the financing model of the PPI.
